Dialware for Politics

The industry's first mobile dial-testing campaign solution.

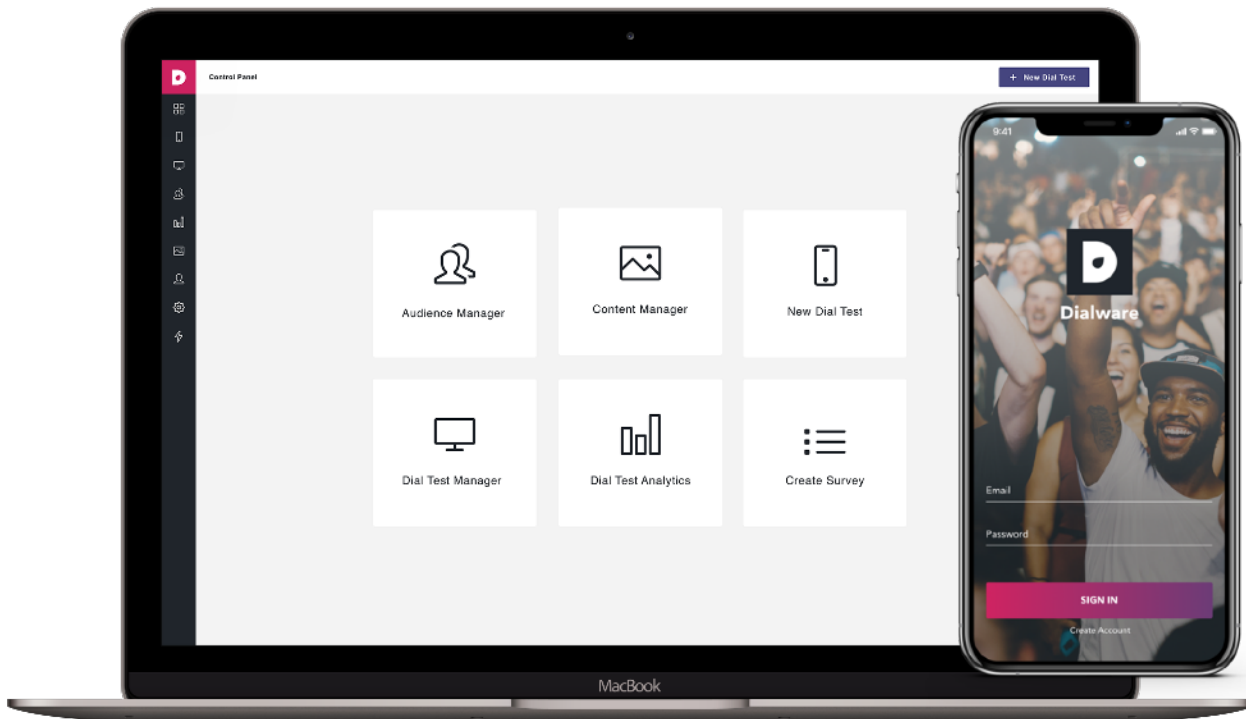

Our software turns every mobile phone into a dial that voters use to share their reaction to campaign content.

This solution enables your campaign to test messaging, content and value propositions against a wider assortment of test takers. And it is faster, easier, and cheaper than traditional methods.

- Understand what resonates with your voters - at scale and in real time
- Optimize your message and tone to align with voter preferences
- Build a target audience with ease using built-in voter panels
- Connect with voters faster, more cheaply, and more often - giving you quick, iterative insights
- Test your opponent's content and learn how you compare
